THE SCHOOL TURMOIL

. . . has been the focul point for attention in Hondo this week and that is a shame.

It's a shame that such a disruption happened in the first place. But it's more of a blight on our society that we have people who want power so much that they will harm the very future of young children to grab at it. Perhaps the greatest shame is that these people are only a small portion of the Mexican-American population of our city plus a few outside agitators. They are not the spokesmen for all our citizens.

Grievances will always exist in institutions run by man [or woman, if any libbers feel I am slighting the fairer sex.] But the only sensible way to solve them is through discussion.

No one can disagree with the right to protest of those persons who met with the school board on two occasions. They have that precious right by being Americans. They would not have it if they were citizens of many countries in the world today, especially those militant countries they are trying to imitate.

Yet, through their subsequent actions they have abused that right granted by the privilege of being Americans as they try to destroy the very institution that makes it possible for all of us to be informed citizens rather than the uneducated controlled serfs of the Middle Ages. Without education man would have remained at the lowest level of the ladder, never progressing, never desiring progress and by their actions they are denying that opportunity to the very children for whom they vocally express so much concern.

Thank God, that in America, every person, yes, I mean every person regardless of his color, race, or creed, is offered the opportunity to gain that education which places him on a higher plane of informed awareness. But that offer must be accepted fully by all citizens if its high promise can ever be fulfilled.

True, we Americans have, through the years, abused, neglected and ignored the rights of many of our citizens as far as education is concerned. But today I feel that with the exception of some isolated cases our education system offers the fullest opportunity to everyone, and those isolated cases should be eliminated.

I cannot argue against the fact that prejudice and discrimination exist in our society. They do. But they are held and perpetrated by people on both sides of the fence. They are not the exclusive actions of the Anglos nor the Mexican-Americans, nor the blacks, nor the Indians, nor the Chinese, nor the Irish, nor the Poles, nor of the many other ethnic groups who, in some given part of this great country of ours, are considered a minority.

I deplore prejudices, but would not begin to say I don't have them. I hate discrimination, but cannot confess to be lilly-white in my actions to all people throughout my life.

But I can say that each day I make a special effort to try to treat every person I meet like a human being, and if I can do that, then my thoughts of prejudice or acts of discrimination will become fewer and fewer.

What does this have to do with our schools?

It's very simple. Prejudice and discrimination exist in our schools. Not deliberate all the time. But let me tell you from experience it hurts just the same whether it's deliberate or not. I grew up as "poor White trash" in a small East Texas town and felt the sharp pains of descrimination.

Everyone concerned with the schools, the board, the administration, the faculty, the students, the employees, the parents, should try every day to prevent any such acts or thoughts occuring.

If there are any grievances against specific teachers, parents should confront those teachers. If satisfaction is not obtained, then take the problem to the principal, or the superintendent, or the board.

Each principal, the superintendent and the board should give thorough study to each complaint. Do not shrug it off. Do not take the word of the teacher, nor the student, nor the parent. Investigate the incident and once all the facts are learned take appropriate action.

That, in my humble opinion, is the way to solve problems at our schools.

But, for the sake of all children, let's not completely disrupt the educational process. Not for long hair, short pants, exposed navals.

And certainly not for the purpose of gaining power.

Power gained at the expense of the people is not lasting, nor is it satisfactory for long.

But lasting or satisfactory, it cannot be tolerated.

Submission to tyranny only leads to more tyranny. And to me when people are threatened not to send their children to school, that is tyranny.

Sam Darden enters state office race

Sam L. Darden, Bandera attorney, announced this week his candidacy for election to the office of State Representative, District 45. The district is composed of Frio, Medina, Bandera, Kendall, Blanco and Hays Counties, and the northwest portion of Bexar County.

The 47-year old Darden is a native Texan and is a graduate of Baylor University. He has practiced law in Bandera for the past twenty years and has been active in numerous other businesses. He is a veteran of World War II, a civic leader and member of St. Christopher's Episcopal Church.

Darden will run a conservative Democrat and is in favor of decentralizing the government and placing governmental power in the hands of the people.

"I will work for the man who is trying to make a living on the land," is the reply Darden gave in response to question by a local rancher.

Darden is opposed to state income tax and will work to repeal daylight savings time, which he says has injured all the farmers and ranchers in the district and defeats the original purpose of saving energy.

"Public education is in dire need of a complete overhaul and re-funding," and Darden says that he will work in the Legislature to correct the present inequalities of our educational program.

Prayer Day set March 1 in Hondo

The World Day of Prayer will be observed March 1 at St. Paul Lutheran Church, Hondo, reports the St. Paul American Lutheran Church Women's Society.

The church will beopen for prayer and meditation from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m.

Druing these hours the women will serve refreshments in the annex of the church.

The community is invited to attend, says Verlie Fay Nietenhoefer, St. Paul A. L. C. W. Reporter.

Parade permit issued by City

The Hondo City Council, in special session Monday night, granted a parade permit to the Brown Berets, Hondo Chapter, for a Saturday morning parade.

The group petitioned the City for a parade permit between 10 and 11 a.m. Saturday.

The route will extend from East Hondo west on 16th St. to Avenue M, then south to 18th St., then east down 18th St. to conclusion in East Hondo.

School walkout situation might enter negotiations

Following a week of demands, counter proposals, disturbances, walkouts and mediation meetings the Hondo school situation hangs in limbo as of Wednesday morning.

And even though the heat had simmered down by Wednesday approximately 90 students remained out of school directly attributable to the walkout. This was broken down into these approximations: 13 high school, 27 Meyer Elementary, and 50 McDowell.

But efforts on the part of Gustavo Guynett, Community Relations Services of the U. S. Department of Justice, late Tuesday brought about a meeting between school officials and representatives of Familias Unidas. Nothing definite came from the meeting although both sides drew up conditions they wanted the other to follow.

Walkout action by those persons included in the organizational title of Familias Unidas began Thursday, February 14, with demonstrations at the three schools. That is the day most of the students walked out or were taken out of school by persons (some were parents) who said they had the permission of the parents concerned.

These students have been out of school since that time.

Friday night in a special called meeting the Hondo Independent District School Board heard from their attorney J. C. Hinsley who advised members that there "were several provisions in the Texas Education Code which prohibited conduct such as some adults have recently exhibited in or near the schools. Violations of these provisions may be punished by a fine of from $25.00 to $200 for each offense."

These offenses, as listed in the School Board minutes, include: "Loitering on school property after being warned to leave by the person incharge is prohibited. Disruptive activities by a person or a group of persons interfering with school activities is prohibited. Making noises which prevent or hinder classroom activity, enticing or attempting to entice students away from classes, or preventing or attempting to prevent students from attending classes is prohibited, when done on school property or within 500 feet of school property."

Still quoting board minutes: "The Trustees voted that charges be filed against those who had been guilty of such conduct during recent days and against any who might be guilty of such conduct in the future.

"The Trustees also instructed their attorney that a suit for injunction and for damages be filed against any persons attempting to interfere with normal conduct of the Hondo Schools or to induce students to stay away from classes or engage in boycott of the schools.

"It was also pointed out that it is an offense against the compulsory school attendances by children of school age."

Saturday morning charges of "willfully disrupting conduct of classes in public schools" were filed against Isabel Correa, Irma Torres and Oralia Cortinez. They were released on $400 property bond.

In Tuesday's meeting with the mediator, the Familias Unidas group presented these Pre-Conditions to ending the walkout:

1. All boycotting students will return to class and will be given opportunity to make up all work missed in every class.

2. All seniors will be allowed to make up work missed and should graduate unless their grades were unsatisfactory prior to the walkout -- and they are unable to perform the make-up work satisfactorily.

3. Charges will be dropped on the three women charged with disturbing classes.

4. Either side may break off negotiations for good cause.

5. A letter will be sent by school authorities to each who has been absent for any length of time during the boycott period. Attached to the letter will be a note of asurance signed by the spokesman for the parents and student walkout committee stating that the boycott is concluded, that negotiations will take place, that these negotiations will be governed by the agreed-to pre-conditions, and that all students should return to class.

6. All boycotting students will be given amnesty from disciplinary action, scholastic or otherwise, and will not be subjected to harrassment or intimidation because of their participation in the walkout. Any complaints by the students concerning violations of these pre-conditions by the school district may be brought to the attention of the negotiation team for corrections.

7. (noted as 8 on the list of pre-conditions) Negotiating committee for students (should include) 5 parents, 5 students, 1 mediator, 2 attorneys. Negotiating committee (for district) will consist of board, 1 mediator, 1 attorney.

8. (listed as 9) Negotiations -- night between 7 p.m. - 10:30 p.m.

The negotiating committee representing the school proposed these conditions titled Response to Mediator's Request:

1. All boycotting students will return to class. No disciplinary action will be taken against students for the days of the boycott.

2. The school agrees to call off the previously contemplated legal action against parents of boycotting students. (This does not include the three who have been charged with disrupting classes.)

3. Either side may break off negotiations for good cause.

4. If in the negotiations a good reason is shown for a written communication to parents, such routine will be forthcoming.

5. A committee to negotiate may be composed of 5 parents and 1 attorney and 4 board members, superintendent and 1 attorney. These will meet with a federal mediator.

6 Meetings will be held in the Hondo High School audio-visual room on a date acceptable to both sides and beginning at 7:30 p.m.

This is where matters stood as of noon Wednesday.

Representatives of the boycotting students said they needed to contact their attorney, while the school representative said the board attorney was also being contacted.

Meanwhile some 90 students remained out of school.

Received some nice letters from young people whose animals were purchased by the Merchants Pool at the Livestock Show.

Here they are:

"Dear sirs; I would like to thank you for buying my hog at the Medina County Livestock Show. It was a great experience feeding the animal. Sincerely, Fidencio Garcia."

"Dear Mr. Hollmig; I wish to thank you for buying my show hog. I spent a lot of time with this hog. Unfortunately, however, I did not place. The fact that I did not place was disappointing but I still enjoyed raising it and I am looking forward to raising another one nest year. Thank you again for buying my hog. Sincerely, Lee Haile."

"Dear Hondo Merchants; I thank you dearly for helping me out with my chicken. I came out $48 ahead. Thank you again. Your friend, Rusty Haile."

"Dear Sirs; Thank you for buying my fryers. This money will help me on my next year's project. I plan to have a better project for you. Thanks once again. Sincerely yours, Ronnie Gallegos, Devine."

"Dear Sirs; Thank you for the purchase of my show calf. I really appreciate it. Sincerely yours, Paul Aelvoet, Hondo."

"Dear Mr. Holmig; I would like to thank you for the generous buying of my lamb. Because of this price of $1.35 a pound, I made $133.65 and $60.24 profit. Thank you once again. I am proud to be living in this fine community of ours and I am proud to do business with people such as you. Thank you Sincerely, Ron Squires."

A WARM UP

. . . is sorta the way one can describe the First Internation Chili Convention which will be held at the Jersey Lilly Saloon on Saturday, March 9.

Anyway, that's when all the chili cooks in Texas will meet to talk, plan, talk, drink, talk and discuss ways and means to judge chili cooks.

Already, there are several from Hondo who have indicated they plan to be in attendance, such as Les and Judy Schumann, Jake Schuehle and possibly Fred Johnson and Dooley Eckhart.

Ya'll have a good time and invite all our chili cooking friends to be on hand at the big Southwestern Championship Chili Cook on Museum celebration Day May 4.

SPEAKING OF CHILI

. . . reminds me that Judy has mailed out a letter to all chili cookers, and those who even think they can cook, to come to the big event in Hondo on May 4.

I won't repeat the letter but I think the last line tells the story: "A.So let's get together and have a steaming chili dilley in Hondo, Texas; may next year's chiggers be bigger!"

Judy, I don't know about the bigger chiggers, but with all the work you all are doing on this event there is no reason it shouldn't be the best in Texas. Keep up the good work!

Sale of Biry's store marks end of era in D'Hanis

In the limited business district of D'Hanis, changes in ownership make big news.

But when Henry Biry sold his package store last month to John Ney it marked the end of an era.

Henry, a native of Biry, Texas, who came to D'Hanis and married a local girl, spent 45 years in business there.

He first operated a cafe; later he added a package store, and still later he devoted full time to that store. Since 1929, he's been on Highway 90.

In fact, he even moved his cafe when the highway moved, during the 30's.

"You know, I never closed during the three days we were moving. The first day we got about a block down the street, and I just put up some temporary steps and went on selling breakfasts, dinners, and suppers.

"We almost got to the new location by the second day, a Sunday. But there was a big ball game that day, so we just set up the steps one more time."

The cafe still stands where he moved it, though it now houses a tavern.

Opening in 1929, still during the Prohibition days, Henry drew on his experiences as a World War I camp cook to buy a cafe.

The cafe he took over was build in Old D'Hanis by Harry Mueller. In the years after it was built it was run by Mueller, a man named Fogle, and Maurice Finger. Somewhere in that period, the building was moved to New D'Hanis, where business was more brisk, and where rail passengers sometimes ventured outside the depot for a meal. (If that cafe could talk, it could tell some real stories, confides Henry.)

When prohibition was repealed (and there was a gray period when selling liquor was legal in the United States, but illegal in Texas) Henry turned one room of his cafe into a package store. This was in 1936, as near as he remembers.

By 1942, under pressure from a State law forbidding sale and consumption of liquor under the same roof, Henry sold the liquor interest to his brother-in-law, Charles Langfeld, and a Mr. Whitfield.

For a while, he continued with the cafe. Then he spent a year at Hondo Air Base as a civilian worker.

By 1948, Henry had bought back the package store, now located in a separate building alongside the cafe. Since that time, to the end of 1973, he continued there.

"I made a lot of friends, and I really enjoyed all the years I was there," Henry says now.

"I only hope all my old customers will continue to support John Ney the way they did me."

Now retired, and a great-grandfather, Henry was asked what occupies his time these days.

"I used to have to get downtown to work every day, and I had to rush anything I did around the house. I do the same things now that I always did. Except now, I can do them slower."

Theft ring broken

Two Norman, Oklahoma, teenagers have been arrested and charged with a string of area house break-ins. Charged with burglary and theft was 18-year-old Larry Charles Ryan and a 16-year-old companion. Both are being held in the Medina County jail and additional charges may be filed by officers in other communities.

The duo is believed responsible for two house break-ins in Hondo, one in Castroville and one in D'Hanis. a gun taken from the Castroville break-in was found in the possession of the two teenagers when they were arrested. Authorities said the two may have been involved in a series of burglaries and break-ins from San Antonio to Uvalde.

The pair was arrested after entering the home of Henry Flory, Hondo. Hondo policeman Jerry Patterson and Sherrif's Officer Bill Shael captured the pair inside the home.

Hondo police also rounded up a load of 12 illegal aliens about midnight and charged two St. Augustine men with "transporting illegal aliens."

They were identified As J. D. Pote and R. B. Sowell, both of St. Augusting. Officers said they stopped the men's pickup truck for a tail light violation on Highway 90 and when they checked the camper on the pickup police found 12 illegal aliens. The aliens were turned over to federal officers in San Antonio and the two men were charged and released pending an investigation.

The 12 aliens is the largest local haul since Hondo police rounded up 25 aliens late last year.

Man sentenced in mail theft

A former Hondo postal employee has pleaded guilty after being charged with mail theft.

Richardo Gonzales, 23, now of San Antonio, was indicted by a federal grand jury for embezzling a letter containing a U. S. Treasury check in the amount of $469.16 while in the employ of the postal service in Hondo.

Gonzales told the court he had no previous record, had been a sergeant in the Marine Corps, and received an honorable discharge.

He told U. S. District Judge Adrian Spears he had "become desperate" when his wife was ready to bear him a second child.

The court handed down an indeterminate sentence in the case.

"I made a lot of friends, and I really enjoyed all the years I was there," Henry says now.

"I only hope all my old customers will continue to support John Ney the way they did me."

Now retired, and a great-grandfather, Henry was asked what occupies his time these days.

"I used to have to get downtown to work every day, and I had to rush anything I did around the house. I do the same things now that I always did. Except now, I can do them slower."

Theft ring broken

Two Norman, Oklahoma, teenagers have been arrested and charged with a string of area house break-ins. Charged with burglary and theft was 18-year-old Larry Charles Ryan and a 16-year-old companion. Both are being held in the Medina County jail and additional charges may be filed by officers in other communities.

The duo is believed responsible for two house break-ins in Hondo, one in Castroville and one in D'Hanis. a gun taken from the Castroville break-in was found in the possession of the two teenagers when they were arrested. Authorities said the two may have been involved in a series of burglaries and break-ins from San Antonio to Uvalde.

The pair was arrested after entering the home of Henry Flory, Hondo. Hondo policeman Jerry Patterson and Sherrif's Officer Bill Shael captured the pair inside the home.

Hondo police also rounded up a load of 12 illegal aliens about midnight and charged two St. Augustine men with "transporting illegal aliens."

They were identified As J. D. Pote and R. B. Sowell, both of St. Augusting. Officers said they stopped the men's pickup truck for a tail light violation on Highway 90 and when they checked the camper on the pickup police found 12 illegal aliens. The aliens were turned over to federal officers in San Antonio and the two men were charged and released pending an investigation.

The 12 aliens is the largest local haul since Hondo police rounded up 25 aliens late last year.

Bad News travels fast, which might account for the speed with which the disappointing results of the city bond election reached me. I shall have to await the arrival of the 2/14 Anvil Herald to read the official results of the double-header crop failure.

Somehow, I had confused dates and thought the fate of the bonds was to be determined later, at city election time.

I have been carrying the library torch for Hondo for years. Granted we have come a long way since the days of the few shelves that supported the original attempt [in a corner of the Chamber of Commerce], we still need adequate housing and a building that would add immeasurably to the city's community services. Tax "therapy" is recommended.

Maybe next time? Hope springs eternal!

A phone visit with PEGGY SIMPSON Sunday night was exactly what I needed to jog my flagging optimism. She was in town visiting her grandparents. We reminisced about the "old" Hondo days of some 12 years back when Peggy was among-those-present on the Anvil Herald crew and held the job as editor which was at least one stepping stone toward the responsibilities she now discharges so professionally for Associated Press in WDC.

Peggy remembers many of her Hondo friends and, if the ears of some of you were burning, it was because you were being mentioned. She inquired about "Doc" Taylor, the City Council whose progress she once reported, Josie [Mrs. Amos] Finger of D'Hanis, and she remembered many of the citizens featured in the AH 75th Diamond Anniversary edition [12/29/'61]. [I have my copy, all 24 pages of it.]

Peggy told me that she still uses a treasured "going away" gift which she received from LIZ MAPLES. It is a hang-on-the-door-knob laundry bag which continues to fight its own battle-of-the-bulge when laundry time must yield to the demands of news deadlines.

To those of you who remember Peggy, she sends a friendly "Hi!" via this system of remote control.

Another pleasant greeting came from JOHNNY JOE MENDOZA, a former co-worker compadre of my own AH days. He and his family were in town for a few hours of "bay-seeing" which I hope they enjoyed.

I invited them to come by for a hand-shaking howdy but time did not permit. Time is like that, always goes by too fast.

About two weeks ago I caught sight of one of JERRY BERGER's Ask-me-about-my grandchild suggestions attached to the bumper of a Lincoln Continental as it whizzed around a corner on busy Alameda Street.

Maybe the driver was hurrying to be next in line for a refill at a gas station which, these days, might take precedence over comparing notes on grandchildren.

The growing stress on bilingualism has spread to bumper stickers and many are now making their pitch in Spanish.

Two that I noticed at a Cullen Mall parking lot read "Manejo amigable" [I drive friendly] and "Quidado donde te parkes" -- which, in mispelled and unmistakably border-coloquial Tex-Mex is trying to warn drivers to be careful where they park.

Our English verb "to park" [a vehicle] doesn't seem to lend itself to ready translation so, it has become "parquear" in popular use. "No parking" becomes "Prohibido estacionarse" which is a bit of a mouthful, with or without dentures.

The 1974 Medina County Jr. Livestock Show did itself proud with the most $ sales ever. And, there was no mistaking the judtifiable pride and excitement in the eyes of the young prize winners as reflected in the pictures which appeared along with the story.

ShowMANship seemed about evenly divided so there should be no brouhaha over changing another "man" word into "showpersonship".

The 1975 exhibitors will have to look to their laurels to beat the class of '74.

A Houston daily published a complete list of candidates for the Texas Legislature and of Texas "hopefuls" in the race for the U. S. House of Representatives.

Now maybe I can try to keep up with who is seeking what and from where. Included in the list from NW San Antonio-Lower West Texas District 21 is Medina County's [and Hondo's] JOHN POERNER, 41, and just the right age for the job, even if the listing did not include the complete qualifications as noted herein. He is one of ten candidates but the only John Poerner in the lot.

"Much time, work and effort went into these 75 medals" said the story about the medalists in the recent regional contest held in Hondo.

I'd consider that among the understatements of the year, thus far. Owl Band Director Billy Harrell might have had something to do with it and I'm sure his students would be the first to say so.

This might be classified as electioneering from afar but I can't resist a comment or two, based on current political announcements in the Medina County area.

The names of the two contenders for the spot of State Representative augur well for agricultural prospects: it takes RAINS to insure GREEN crops. Choose one.

And, if anybody is better qualified than CONNIE KOCH to succeed Henry Schulte as county clerk, I don't know who it could be.

And me without a Medina County right-to-vote!

A phone visit with PEGGY SIMPSON Sunday night was exactly what I needed to jog my flagging optimism. She was in town visiting her grandparents. We reminisced about the "old" Hondo days of some 12 years back when Peggy was among-those-present on the Anvil Herald crew and held the job as editor which was at least one stepping stone toward the responsibilities she now discharges so professionally for Associated Press in WDC.

Peggy remembers many of her Hondo friends and, if the ears of some of you were burning, it was because you were being mentioned. She inquired about "Doc" Taylor, the City Council whose progress she once reported, Josie [Mrs. Amos] Finger of D'Hanis, and she remembered many of the citizens featured in the AH 75th Diamond Anniversary edition [12/29/'61]. [I have my copy, all 24 pages of it.]

Peggy told me that she still uses a treasured "going away" gift which she received from LIZ MAPLES. It is a hang-on-the-door-knob laundry bag which continues to fight its own battle-of-the-bulge when laundry time must yield to the demands of news deadlines.

To those of you who remember Peggy, she sends a friendly "Hi!" via this system of remote control.

Another pleasant greeting came from JOHNNY JOE MENDOZA, a former co-worker compadre of my own AH days. He and his family were in town for a few hours of "bay-seeing" which I hope they enjoyed.

I invited them to come by for a hand-shaking howdy but time did not permit. Time is like that, always goes by too fast.

About two weeks ago I caught sight of one of JERRY BERGER's Ask-me-about-my grandchild suggestions attached to the bumper of a Lincoln Continental as it whizzed around a corner on busy Alameda Street.

Maybe the driver was hurrying to be next in line for a refill at a gas station which, these days, might take precedence over comparing notes on grandchildren.

The growing stress on bilingualism has spread to bumper stickers and many are now making their pitch in Spanish.

Two that I noticed at a Cullen Mall parking lot read "Manejo amigable" [I drive friendly] and "Quidado donde te parkes" -- which, in mispelled and unmistakably border-coloquial Tex-Mex is trying to warn drivers to be careful where they park.

Our English verb "to park" [a vehicle] doesn't seem to lend itself to ready translation so, it has become "parquear" in popular use. "No parking" becomes "Prohibido estacionarse" which is a bit of a mouthful, with or without dentures.

The 1974 Medina County Jr. Livestock Show did itself proud with the most $ sales ever. And, there was no mistaking the judtifiable pride and excitement in the eyes of the young prize winners as reflected in the pictures which appeared along with the story.

ShowMANship seemed about evenly divided so there should be no brouhaha over changing another "man" word into "showpersonship".

The 1975 exhibitors will have to look to their laurels to beat the class of '74.

A Houston daily published a complete list of candidates for the Texas Legislature and of Texas "hopefuls" in the race for the U. S. House of Representatives.

Now maybe I can try to keep up with who is seeking what and from where. Included in the list from NW San Antonio-Lower West Texas District 21 is Medina County's [and Hondo's] JOHN POERNER, 41, and just the right age for the job, even if the listing did not include the complete qualifications as noted herein. He is one of ten candidates but the only John Poerner in the lot.

"Much time, work and effort went into these 75 medals" said the story about the medalists in the recent regional contest held in Hondo.

I'd consider that among the understatements of the year, thus far. Owl Band Director Billy Harrell might have had something to do with it and I'm sure his students would be the first to say so.

This might be classified as electioneering from afar but I can't resist a comment or two, based on current political announcements in the Medina County area.

The names of the two contenders for the spot of State Representative augur well for agricultural prospects: it takes RAINS to insure GREEN crops. Choose one.

And, if anybody is better qualified than CONNIE KOCH to succeed Henry Schulte as county clerk, I don't know who it could be.

And me without a Medina County right-to-vote!

Historical pilot project proposed for Castroville

A community where historic buildings are restored and put to use, where school children learn about their local heritage and where historic preservation is the work of local citizens using local talents -- these are a few of the anticipated results of a pilot project for Castroville, a community west of San Antonio.

To finance the year-long project, the Alamo Area Council of Governments has applied for a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts in Washington, D.C., to investigate various approaches for reinforcing the impact of historic resources on a community's social and economic life.

If funded, the pilot project would be a planning effort that could provide citizens with "how to" information, such as ways to develop a museum and to establish tours and events based on historic attractions. The project would also concentrate on ways to match up buyers with sellers of historic properties and methods for determining the potential of new industries in contributing to the existing cultural and historical setting.

The City of Castroville was chosen as the potential pilot city because of its rich heritage and location near an urban area. Founded in 1844, the Alsatian town contains one of the highest concentrations of historic structures in the Alamo Region. The Castroville Historic District is on the National Register of Historic Places.

The study was conceived not only to investigate the historic resources of Castroville but also to involve the local citizenry in carrying out various projects after the study is completed. The city has already made efforts at historic preservation and interested persons are serving on a committee that will probably become the steering committee for the pilot project.

Contributed time and assistance from many state, regional, local and non-local groups are a part of the effort. At the present time the Alamo Area Council of governments is coordinating the efforts of architecture students from San Antonio College who are working on design projects for Castroville. The students, under the direction of the citizens committee, will analyze the needs of the city and choose a design project that will contribute to the overall setting. Organizations such as the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, Texas Historical Commission and the University of Texas at San Antonio are only a few of the volunteers that will lend their expertise to the project.

The possibility of using techniques learned during the pilot project in other cities is another benefit of the project. The techniques developed during the study will be flexible enough to be used elsewhere and can be tailored to specific community needs because of the emphasis on citizen involvement. Citizens of the Alamo Region will also benefit from seminars on specific problem areas held in connection with the project.

Let me take this opportunity to congratulate you again and to thank you for your continued support to the programs of the Parks and Wildlife Department."

CYO has Charity Walk

The Hondo CYO recently held their annual Charity Walk for the benefit of the Emergency Ambulance Service of Medina County. The route covered a 29-mile distance from he County Courthouse to the designated end-point on Tarpley Road.

The Walk was a county-wide project, originated and organized by the CYO of St. John's Parish in Hondo. Since this was for the benefit of the county, many energetic and generous citizens along with business sponsors and individual contributors helped with the project. The walkers obtained money from their spo nsors, who gave a specific amount for each mile.

Although they were unable to attend, the D'Hanis CYO added substantially to the proceeds.

The amount raised so far is $1130.00, but contributions are still being received.

We would like to express our gratitude to anyone who helped in any way.

Poerner fund-raising event scheduled

A special fund raising Chile & Tamale Supper has been scheduled for Rep. John H. Poerner on Saturday, March 16, at the American Legion Hall in Hondo.

The event is being billed as a "purely fund raising rally," although plenty of good chili and tamales will be on hand to feed the hungry ones. But the main reason is to raise money for the campaign to elect John Poerner Congressman in the 21st Congressional District.

Sponsored by the Committee for John Poerner, Albert Vance chairman, the event will sell tickets at a minimum of $5 per person, as well as take any contributions local and area citizens wish to make to the campaign.

County Attorney Allen Lee is supervising the overall activities and has begun distributing tickets to people who have indicated they wish to help out by selling them.

"Anyone interested in helping with the project, the campaign, or who wish to purchase tickets," Lee said, "are invited to call Poerner's office at 426-3112."

National FFA Week is scheduled in February to honor George Washington who was an outstanding farmer as well as a great leader.

Keeping flame-resistance fabrics safe

Those flame-resistant pajamas the little ones received for Christmas won't remain that way without special care.

"Unless laundered under manufacturer's directions, a fabric's flame-resistant finish may be damaged," Mrs. Doris Myers warned this week.

The home management specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, advised washing flame-resistant cottons in phosphate-based detergent or an effective substitute.

"With soap or non-phosphate detergent, a film builds up--masking chemicals that make the fabric flame-resistant.

Since phosphates are banned in some areas, consumers can effectively use non-phosphate, heavy-duty liquid detergent as a substitute," the specialist added.

According to the National Bureau of Standards, the Consumer Product Safety Commission and some detergent industry representatives, this product won't damage flame-retardant fabrics.

"Used according to directions, these citrate-based detergents protect fabric finish without harming water supplies."

Mrs. Myers recommended the following basics when laundering flame-retardant fabrics:

--Read and follow washing and drying directions on each garment's care label. Certain flame-retardant fabrics require special care.

--Use phosphate-based detergent.

--Don't use soap or soap powder.

--Don't use hot water.

--Don't bleach.

For those who don't use phosphate detergent -- or in areas where phosphates are banned -- the following rules apply:

--Use soft water if possible.

--Use heavy-duty liquid detergent, following directions provided on the container.

--Select children's flame-retardant garments made of synthetic fabrics. (Chemicals used to process synthetics differ from those used for flame-retardant cottons--and don't lose their built-in protection as readily.)

"In addition, consumers can learn and understand required garment care by reading hang tags and labels when purchasing flame-resistant sleepwear.

"Also review detergent labels. They identify the type detergent being purchased--and may provide special instructions for laundering flame-resistant garments.

"Above all, keep youngsters safe from fire. Don't place all the responsibility on flame-retardant sleepwear," she emphasized.

Cow Belles hold get-acquainted coffee

The Southwest Texas Cow Belles held a get-acquainted coffee in the MeNelly Room of the First State Bank Building, Uvalde, February 5.

Membership of the group is made up of wives and daughters of cattle raisers, feeders, processors, packers, and grain dealers.

There are also wives of bankers who loan money to the rancher, truckers who haul cattle to market, veterinarians and retailers, and some women who are themselves "in the saddle".

President of the Uvalde chapter is Mrs. Frank Week. She introduced other officers Mrs. Bill Harlan, Vice President; Mrs. W. J. Vaughan, Secretary; Mrs. Dave Thompson, Treasurer; and Mrs. Houston Evans, Historian.

Mrs. Weed also introduced the president of the South Texas Cow Belles chapter, Mrs. C. M. Bell Sr. of Pearsall.

Mrs. Bell explained to those present ways in which the organization can effectively promote a sounder beef industry. Mrs. Bell stressed the need to build memberships, citing the fact that there is strength in numbers -- especially in dealing with legislative matters affecting the beef industry.

Speical guests were Mrs. Woodward of Pearsall, first Vice President of the South Texas Chapter, and Mrs. Crane, Beef promotion chairman of Frio County.

Poerner fund-raising event scheduled

A special fund raising Chile & Tamale Supper has been scheduled for Rep. John H. Poerner on Saturday, March 16, at the American Legion Hall in Hondo.

The event is being billed as a "purely fund raising rally," although plenty of good chili and tamales will be on hand to feed the hungry ones. But the main reason is to raise money for the campaign to elect John Poerner Congressman in the 21st Congressional District.

Sponsored by the Committee for John Poerner, Albert Vance chairman, the event will sell tickets at a minimum of $5 per person, as well as take any contributions local and area citizens wish to make to the campaign.

County Attorney Allen Lee is supervising the overall activities and has begun distributing tickets to people who have indicated they wish to help out by selling them.

"Anyone interested in helping with the project, the campaign, or who wish to purchase tickets," Lee said, "are invited to call Poerner's office at 426-3112."

National FFA Week is scheduled in February to honor George Washington who was an outstanding farmer as well as a great leader.

Wide-ranging community loans available

Small rural communities will soon have increased federal support to update or develop needed facilities according to announcement today by Mr. J. Lynn Futch, Director of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Farmers Home Administration programs in Texas.

State Director Futch said FHA can make credit available to small rural towns for a wide range of community facilities such as industrial parks, streets, fire fighting equipment, ambulance services, community centers and even for community recreation.

The new program authorized under provisions of the 1972 Rural Development Act, supplements the Farmers Home Administration's water and waste disposal loan program.

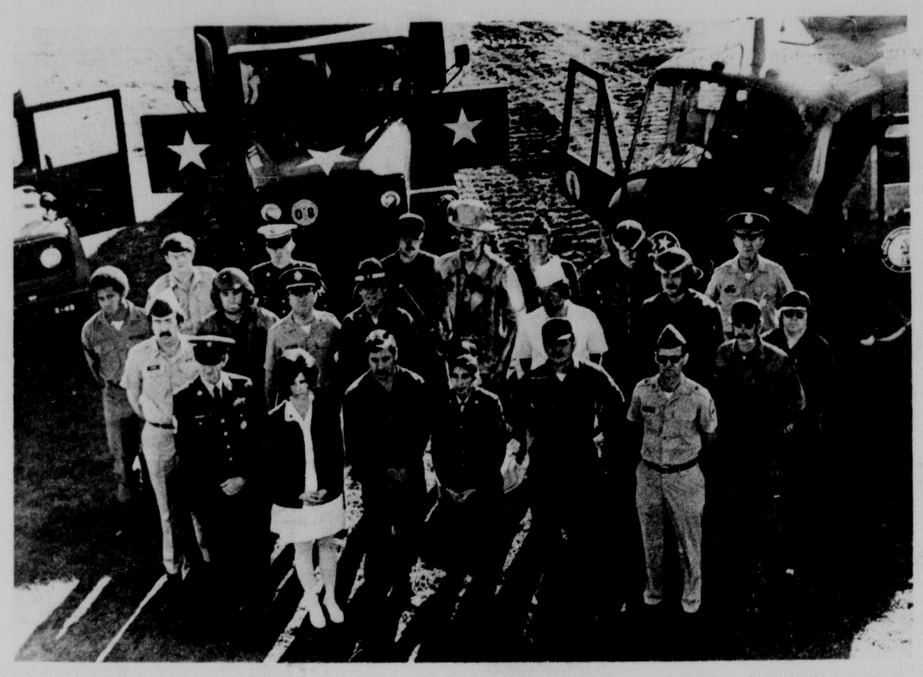
"We are constantly striving to improve the quality of life in our state's small towns and outlying communities," Mr. Futch said. "Our water and sewer loan program has financed over 763 systems with more than $134 million and benefited 523,000 rural people since the start of the program. Now we are in position to assist with more diverse projects."

Most of the loans are expected to be made to public bodies such as towns up to 10,000 population, counties aad some special purpose districts, Mr. Futch said. Some assistance may go to nonprofit corporations, provided they prepare plans for adequate repayment.

Mr. Futch pointed out that priority will be given to municipal borrowers in communities smaller than 5,500 people to improve a deteriorating water supply or to enlarge or modify a water system or an inadequate sewer system. Proposed plans must be consistent with areawide development plans.

Borrowers may use funds to acquire land and/or water rights, to construct buildings of modest design, size and cost essential to the operation of the community facility, and to provide for a large variety of other needs.

Additional information is available through any of Texas' 143 county FHA offices, usually located in county seat towns.



A GIANT IN COMMUNITY SERVICE -- Today's Texas Guard is composed of 17,000 men and women from every walk of life . . . all are citizen soldiers ready to drop their civilian pursuits and respond when disaster strikes. Floods, hurricanes, tornadoes and blizzards -- Texas Guardsmen are always there. The citizens of Texas salute those who serve in the Texas Guard.

Hondo Guard unit enters recruiting drive

The Texas Guard today launched Project "Guardsmen for Texas" an energetic recruiting campaign aimed at bringing the state's Guard strength to 100 percent.

The campaign's goal is to recruit 1,500 men and women into the Texas Guard.

Governor Dolph Briscoe, in support of Project Guardsmen, stated "A strong Guard program is an honorable way for Texas' sons and daughters to serve their state and nation. February will be a challenging month for the Texas Guard and I urge every Texan to become familiar with this vital organization."

The Texas Guard mission is to respond either to disasters within the state, or to the President in time of national emergency.

Texas Adjutant General, Major General Thomas S. Bishop, pointed out that new comers in the Texas Guard today earn more than $43 a weekend.

"New Guardsmen attend basic and advanced training for approximately six months," General Bishop said, "During this time, single Guardsmen are paid more than $325 per month, while married Guardsmen earn more than $425 a month. Free medical care and other service benefits are also included."

"New Guardsmen return home and attend meetings one weekend a month and two weeks each summer," the General continued, "The money saved on active duty, coupled with weekend checks, often helps our young Guardsmen pay their college or vocational school expenses. And Guard checks are always a welcome addition to one's regular income."

Wholly voluntary, the Texas Guard is composed of 17,000 men and women from every walk of life.

"Our Guardsmen stand ready to drop their civilian pursuits and respond whenever they're needed," General Bishop said.

Jobs in the Texas Guard include, diesel mechanics, truck drivers, electronic specialists, cooks, medical personnel, heavy equipment operators, tank drivers and airborne specialists.

Individuals know the job they will be assigned before they join the Texas Guard.

Texas Guard history dates back to the Army of the Republic of Texas when volunteers banded together to form fighting units and companies to defend their homes. These Militiamen of another age are the roots of today's Texas Guard.

"FFA for tomorrow's agriculture" is the theme for National FFA WEEK, February 16-23.

FOR TOMORROW'S AGRICULTURE . . . FFA

by Karen Skolaut

The Future Farmers of America. Sure, you knew they existed and you've probably said to yourself "That's a fine organization for our youth." But chances are you really don't know too much about the FFA.

Shortly after the initiation of vocational agricultural courses in our public schools in 1917, the need for practical training beyond the classroom approach was recognized. Founded in 1928, the FFA has become an important teaching tool, combining practical application and classroom instruction.

More than 7,800 public high schools have FFA chapters Well over 432,000 youths preparing for careers in agriculture and agri-business are members. Any student regularly enrolled in vocational agriculture may be an active member and may retain membership until age 21.

The local chapters plan and conduct activities that will develop leadership abilities and offer incentive awards recognizing leadership development.

The activities of these local chapters are coordinated by the State FFA Associations. The State Associations elect student officers and operate in cooperation with state offices of education. Each association conducts a state convention once a year and at this time the business of the association is conducted and accomplishments of members are recognized.

The National FFA Organization is headquartered on 28 1/2 acres of land purchased in 1939 in Alexandria, Virginia.

The National Organization plans, develops, and helps coordinate FFA activities throughout the nation. Each year a national FFA convention is held in Kansas City, Missouri, at which time student delegates elect six National Officers to represent them throughout the year. The National FFA Organization also awards the American Farmer Degree—the highest degree of FFA membership.

The first National FFA Week was celebrated in 1949 during the week of George Washington's birthday. George Washington made many significant contributions to American agriculture and the FFA recognizes him in their ceremonies and especially during FFA Week. National FFA Headquarters are located on land that was once part of George Washington's estate in Virginia.

"For Tomorrow's Agriculture" is the theme of 1974 National FFA Week which is February 16-23. Today FFA members train in agriculture proficiency, receive instruction and are given experience in leadership — but tomorrow they will emerge as the vital force to insure our future's agriculture. They are confident that agriculture has a bright future and are preparing for careers in this vital industry that provides food, fiber and a better environment for the nation and the world.

What is FFA all about? The specific purposes for which the organization was formed tell the story:

1. To develop competent, aggressive, rural and agricultural leadership.
2. To create and nurture a love of country life.
3. To strengthen the confidence of students of vocational agriculture in themselves and their work.
4. To create more interest in the intelligent choice of agriculture occupations.
5. To encourage members in the development of individual farming programs and establishment in agricultural careers.
6. To encourage members to improve the home and its surroundings.
7. To participate in worthy undertakings for the improvement of agriculture.
8. To develop character, train for useful citizenship, and foster patriotism.
9. To participate in cooperative effort.
10. To encourage and practice thrift.
11. To encourage improvement in scholarship.
12. To provide and encourage the development of organized rural recreation activities.

Conservation projects re-open

Medina County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee reports that the new Rural Environmental Conservation Program will go into effect in 1974. The program is still being developed but should be implemented by early spring.

The program will share the cost with producers at rates of 50 percent up to 75 percent of the cost of carrying out approved soil and water conserving practices. Details of the program and signup dates will be announced as soon as development of the program is complete.

Important dates to remember this spring are April 1 deadlines on filing requests or transfer of cotton or peanut allotments, and filing release or requesting reapportionment of released cotton or peanut allotments.

Ag-men should tell fuel needs

"The essential thing a farmer must do to help assure himself adequate fuel for agricultural production is tell his distributor how much he needs. Unless a local distributor or dealer knows what his farm customer requires," said Robert F. Spreen, State Executive Director of the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, "that distributor becomes even more important if a farmer intends to increase his acreage considerably, or if he wants to expand dairy, poultry, or other farm operations. Local dealers will need this information to request additional fuel from their suppliers.

Spreen said, "Agricultural producers who are all to receive priority allocations, will be required to certify to an on going fuel conservation program on their operations. USDA, in cooperation with the Federal Energy Office and the Environmental Protection Agency, has developed a conservation leaflet. This leaflet, scheduled to be available in early March includes an energy management certification that there is an ongoing conservation program and that priority fuel will be used for 'agricultural production.' PRESCRIPTION NOW NEEDED FOR SOME VITAMINS!

As of the first of this month, a new regulation was put into effect regarding the sale of some vitamin products. Other rules might possibly be forthcoming. Specifically, new supplies of those products containing heavy concentrations of Vitamin A or D now must have a prescription.

This DOES NOT mean that you cannot buy products with Vitamin A or D. We carry formulations that have smaller quantities of those vitamins. But, it is important to realize that indiscriminate use of some vitamins can be harmful.

"A GREAT MANY PEOPLE EN TRUST US with their prescriptions, health needs and other pharmacy products. We consider this trust a privilege and a duty. May we be your personal family pharmacy? We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts."

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

P. O. Box 13286 — Capitol Station — Austin, Texas 78711

by Rep. John Poerner

You might say the Constitutional Convention is now entering the downwind approach toward the final "quill and parchment" conclusion of presentation to the people.

Full debate is underway on the Convention floor by members who want to completely understand the various articles voted out by committees.

Our Education Committee passed out Article VII in a form that I feel can, with a few minor changes of wording, be acceptable to the people of Texas.

I am sure there will be much floor debate on the sections and that's as it should be. No doubt there are areas where semantics can be argued forever. But, basically, I feel Article VII as passed out by the Education Committee can adequately serve the future educational needs of our citizens from kindergarten through post-graduate levels.

In some areas I disagreed with the majority of the Committee on wording, but not on intent.

Section I, on Free Public Schools certainly shows a noble intent to provide such system to the children of our State. Yet, the wording leaves serious questions in my mind whether or not the real intent can be misinterpreted or perhaps circumvented.

Equal educational opportunity establishes a worthwhile goal, but I wonder if it could be interpreted as meaning equal dollars spent. This in itself could mean an inequity for those students whose needs or handicaps require more expenditures than do other students.

This is only one area where I question the fact that the wording might tend to prevent achievement of the intent to give all our children the best possible educational preparation according to the needs and abilities.

I believe the present system of distributing available school funds through scholastic population is the best way to equitably share these funds in all school districts. I also feel that all school districts should be allowed the opportunity to provide for the enrichment of their own programs if they wish to do so.

In my opinion, the section on Permanent and Available School Funds failed to accomplish these two purposes as they were voted out by the committee. I have hopes they can reflect these changes after floor debate.

I was happy that Committee member's voted with me and Senator Snelson to retain the constitutional guarantee for the County Public School Fund. This guarantees legal right or ownership and management to those counties who still own lands in these funds, as well as those who have sold the lands and have the money invested in bonds.

FB holds annual meet

Medina County Farm Bureau was represented by four leaders at a regional membership kickoff meeting February 13, 1974, at the Sheraton Motor Inn in San Antonio.

Attending from this county were Ralph Graff, Pres. James Riff, Membership Chairman and R. A. Rodgers.

The meeting in San Antonio was one of three such rallies of Farm Bureau membership workers held in Texas during the week of Feb. 11-15, the period designated by Governor Dolph Briscoe as "Farm Bureau Membership Week in Texas."

At the meetings, the Texas Farm Bureau Announced a statewide goal of 170,000 member families in 1974. If this goal is met, every county Farm Bureau which shows a gain will receive an expense-paid trip for one person to the American Farm Bureau Federation annual meeting in New Orleans in January, 1975.

Medina County Farm Bureau has established a goal of 170 member families in 1974. The local organization ended its 1973 year with 1024. It was one of 209 county Farm Bureaus showing a gain last year.

Keynote speaker at the San Antonio meeting was Ken Cheatham, Park Ridge, Ill., AFBF Assistant director of program development.

Other dignitariespresent included: TFB President J. T. (Red) Woodson, Gober, James Burns, Don Neumann and Ed Cumbie from TFB Waco and Robert Faseler, State Director from Hondo.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

P. O. Box 13286 — Capitol Station — Austin, Texas 78711

by Rep. John Poerner

You might say the Constitutional Convention is now entering the downwind approach toward the final "quill and parchment" conclusion of presentation to the people.

Full debate is underway on the Convention floor by members who want to completely understand the various articles voted out by committees.

Our Education Committee passed out Article VII in a form that I feel can, with a few minor changes of wording, be acceptable to the people of Texas.

I am sure there will be much floor debate on the sections and that's as it should be. No doubt there are areas where semantics can be argued forever. But, basically, I feel Article VII as passed out by the Education Committe can adequately serve the future educational needs of our citizens from kindergarten through post-graduate levels.

In some areas I disagreed with the majority of the Committee on wording, but not on intent.

Section 1, on Free Public Schools certainly shows a noble intent to provide such system to the children of our State. Yet, the wording leaves serious questions in my mind whether or not the real intent can be misinterpreted or perhaps circumvented.

Equal educational opportunity establishes a worthwhile goal, but I wonder if it could be interpreted as meaning equal dollars spent. This in itself could mean an inequity for those students whose needs or handicaps require more expenditures than do other students.

This is only one area where I question the fact that the wording might tend to prevent achievement of the intent to give all our children the best possible educational preparation according to the needs and abilities.

I believe the present system of distributing available school funds through scholastic population is the best way to equitably share these funds in all school districts. I also feel that all school districts should be allowed the opportunity to provide for the enrichment of their own programs if they wish to do so.

In my opinion, the section on Permanent and Available School Funds failed to accomplish these two purposes as they were voted out by the committee. I have hopes they can reflect these changes after floor debate.

I was happy that Committee member's voted with me and Senator Snelson to retain the constitutional guarantee for the County Public School Fund. This guarantees legal right or ownership and management tc those counties who still own lands in these funds, as well as those who have sold the lands and have the money invested in bonds.

FB holds annual meet

Medina County Farm Bureau was represented by four leaders at a regional membership kickoff meeting February 13, 1974, at the Sheraton Motor Inn in San Antonio.

Attending from this county were Ralph Graff, Pres. James Riff, Membership Chairman and R. A. Rodgers.

The meeting in San Antonio was one of three such rallies of Farm Bureau membership workers held in Texas during the week of Feb. 11-15, the period designated by Governor Dolph Briscoe as "Farm Bureau Membership Week in Texas."

At the meetings, the Texas Farm Bureau Announced a statewide goal of 170,000 member families in 1974. If this goal is met, every county Farm Bureau which shows a gain will receive an expense-paid trip for one person to the American Farm Bureau Federation annual meeting in New Orleans in January, 1975.

Medina County Farm Bureau has established a goal of 170 member families in 1974. The local organization ended its 1973 year with 1024. It was one of 209 county Farm Bureaus showing a gain last year.

Keynote speaker at the San Antonio meeting was Ken Cheatham, Park Ridge, Ill., AFBF Assistant director of program development.

Other dignitariespresent included: TFB President J. T. (Red) Woodson, Gober, James Burns, Don Neumann and Ed Cumbie from TFB Waco and Robert Faseler, State Director from Hondo.

MATURITY: Medium--105-115 days HEIGHT: 38" - 46"
DISEASE RESISTANCE: Resistant to smut, MDMV and anthracnose--tolerant to downy mildew.

This has got to be one of the finest grain sorghums available today. This variety has the ability to yield record amounts from Colorado to he Valley of Texas. VERY RARE . . . This rare plant, threatened with extinction, is seldom seen in Medina County. It is Eastern Gama Grass, shown here growing south of Tarpley in the Medina Valley Soil and Water Conservation District. Darwin Schrader, range conservationist for the U. S. Soil Conservation Service at Hondo, says it is the only Eastern Gama grass plant he has seen in the last several months. The plant has a seedhead which resemble corn tassels. It grows up to 6 feet high and the forage is relished by livestock and wildlife. SCS and conservation district officials are helping the Texas Organization for Endangered Species [TOES] monitor habitat and numbers of threatened plants and animals.

It is estimated that there are over 4 million former FFA members.

VERY RARE . . . This rare plant, threatened with extinction, is seldom seen in Medina County. It is Eastern Gama Grass, shown here growing south of Tarpley in the Medina Valley Soil and Water Conservation District. Darwin Schrader, range conservationist for the U. S. Soil Conservation Service at Hondo, says it is the only Eastern Gama grass plant he has seen in the last several months. The plant has a seedhead which resemble corn tassels. It grows up to 6 feet high and the forage is relished by livestock and wildlife. SCS and conservation district officials are helping the Texas Organization for Endangered Species [TOES] monitor habitat and numbers of threatened plants and animals.

SCOUTING'S 64th ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

"Do A Good Turn Daily..."

THE SLOGAN THAT WORKS

It works because practice makes perfect, and daily means every day. Boy Scouts get into the habit of looking for ways to help others, until the habit of helpfulness becomes a way of life. The boy grows into a man who cares . . . and shows it!

The best part about a good turn is that it's good for the boy. He feels better about himself because he can help other people. He learns he can really make a difference in shaping a better world. He doesn't stop at one a day. He's always finding new ways to do good . . . and doing them for his fellow men.

New spring sports bloom at HHS

Before the last jump shot rustled the netting in Hondo's gymnasium, preparations were already underway for the new, expanded Owl spring sports lineup.

Last year Hondo High School ventured into two new fields -- track and golf. This year the athletic curriculum will take in these two, plus boys and girls tennis and girls volleyball. Baseball, of course, will continue to be a major spring sport at HHS.

Additionally, Junior High students will compete this spring in track, playground ball, and volleyball.

Golf

Coach Terry Tilley's golfers will enter their first non-district tournament Friday in Carrizo Springs. District tournament host this year is none other than Hondo. That tourney is set for March 25 at Hondo Municipal Golf Course.

Track

Coach James Bohls will wind up his career at Hondo by heading up this year's track and field program. The new facility at McDowell schoolground is complete now, and the thinclads are in heavy preparation for the invitational tournament set for March 2, Saturday, in Devine. Both Varsity and Junior Varsity will enter that one. There will be invitational tourneys at Devine, Pearsall, Kerrville, and Dilley before the District meet at Carrizo on April 5.

Junior High District meet will be April 8, also at Carrizo Springs.

Baseball

Ballplayers under second-year coach Walt Rothe will enjoy a full schedule of baseball, including a Medina County Tournament to be held in Hondo March 7 and 8. First game of the year will be Friday March 1, at Somerset. District play will get underway on March 30, against Devine.

A B-team will also be fielded this year, with its opening game March 5 at Medina Valley.

Volleyball

Voll eyball for girls is already under way. The team, coached by Mrs. George Riddell, went to Pearsall for its first game last week. A district meet will be held in Pearsall on March 28-19..29.

Junior High volleyball will also be active. Playground ball and volleyball tournament for Junior High will be at Pearsall on April 9.

Tennis

The tennis courts just east of the homemaking building at the high school are seeing heavy use by Hondo's first co-ed athletic group, the tennis team. First district meet for Hondo will come April 4-5. Pearsall will host that contest.

Medina Co. is 3rd in oats production

AUSTIN -- Medina County ranked in the top ten in the state in oat production in 1973, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced.

Commissioner White pointed out that Medina County dramatically increased oat production in 1973 compared to 1972. The county produced 716,000 bushels of oats in 1973 compared to only 14,100 bushels in 1972.

Medina County farmers also incrased their yield per acre from 10.1 bushels in 1972 to 52.6 bushels in 1973, one of the highest yields in the state, White said.

The 1973 Texas oat crop established a record with a state-wide yield of 41 bushels per harvested acre.

"Texas now ranks sixth in the nation in oat production," White said, "and we are proud of our role in the production of this important corp."

In 1973 Texas produced 26,650,000 bushels of oats, an increase of nearly 175 percent over the 1973 crop, White said.

Brucellosis program vital to producers

By Glenn Bragg
County Extension Agent

Livestock producers in Medina County will have a definite interest in the 1974 Texas Brucellosis Eradication Program, which officially began January 15 believes Glenn Bragg, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Texas became modified-certified" in August, 1973, which meant that less than 5 percent of the cattle herds and less than 1 percent of the cattle were infected. The new plan will make Texas a Brucellosis-free state.

Brucellosis, commonly called Bang's, is a costly, contagious disease of livestock that may also affect human beings, points out Bragg. The disease in humans is known as undulant fever. Although it may attack most farm animals, it is more common incattle, swine and goats. Herds with brucellosis may produce as much as 20 percent less milk and 40 percent fewer calves. Thus millions of dollars are lost across the state each year.

The new program is designed to locate the infection, contain it and assist the owner of infected animals to eliminate the disease, explains the County Agent. Three different methods are used to locate infections: Brucellosis Ring Test for dairy herds, Market Cattle Test of all breeding cattle slaughtered, and Blood Test of all breeding cattle exchanging ownership.

All infected and exposed cattle are quarantined and their movement is limited to slaughter only. Blood testing procedures are used to assist owners of infected herds to free their cattle of the disease.

Bragg outlines the new Brucellosis Eradication Program. All cattle, except steers, spayed heifers and vaccinated animals under two years old, must be tested within 30 days of any change of ownership.

A relatively simple "card" test has been developed that gives quick results--an improvement over the old system of sending blood samples to a laboratory. The cost of this initial test by a practicing veterinarian or other authorized person must be paid by the cattleman.

If a brucellosis reactor is found at a sale yard or slaughterhouse, federal or state personnel trace the animal back to its herd of origin. Traceback tools include registered back tags or ear tags that many sale facilities are routinely putting on consigned animas. Ear tags are required for interstate shipment of most cattle.

Other animals in consignment where the reactor was found can be handled any of three ways--sold immediately for slaughter, sent to a quarantined feedlot, or returned to the ranch for quarantine.

All members of the herd of origina are considered exposed to the disease and must be tested at 30 and 120 days after the first reactor is found.

Government agencies conduct these additional tests and pay the direct costs. All reactor animals must be branded with a "B" on the jaw and sold immediately for slaughter. Meat from these animals is not contaminated notes Bragg.

Final clearnace on a state basis can be granted when no more than 1 percent of the herds in any one county and not more than 2 percent of the cattle in that county are confirmed reactors during an 18-month testing period

The program is vital to Texas if we want to keep our interstate trade with Brucellosis-free states, emphasizes Bragg.

Additional information is available at the county Extension Office.
